“ This accounting team knew Ernie professionally for 20 years as we worked for several different companies in the industry, relying on him as the expert we would reach out to whenever an important accounting decision needed to be made. He always steered us right, taught us valuable lessons on each occasion, and gave us confidence.

Most recently, we reached out to him to assist us in setting up a full accounting system for a new government contractor. It was just this fall that our new system, the first we had set up all by ourselves, was reviewed by DCAA for the first time. Not only did we pass with flying colors, the supervisor called our President & CEO to say he had never seen a better accounting system in a new contractor! He sang our praises, claiming we were the best small business accounting team he had run into thus far. We accepted the praise but deep down we knew it was largely because we had Ernie side by side with us over the past couple years while we set it up.

We are a tangible product of Ernie's experience, skill, and commitment to excellence. Unfortunately we got swept up in our busy jobs and never shared this latest glowing success with Ernie, always sure we would see him again soon. So although it is too late to tell Ernie, we wanted to take this chance now to share with his family and friends. We will always be grateful to Ernie, and will continue to strive to be a team he would be proud of.

“ I knew Ernie professionally for more than 20 years. There is no one in the government procurement world I would have sooner turned to for knowledge and expertise in all matters relating to accounting and finance issues than Ernie. He was a phenomenal expert witness whom my past and present colleagues and I greatly relied upon in a number of major cases over the years.

I am deeply sorry for his passing and extend my thoughts and prayers to his loved ones.

With regret,

“ My heartfelt sympathy goes out to the Agresto family and my Aunt Rosemarie Romano.

I was lucky to have shared in a few family holidays in my younger days at the invitation of my Aunt Rosemarie. My conversations with Ernie were always a highlight!

Ernie was an astute accountant and following my father's death years later, Ernie assisted my mother with financial planning advice. This was a challenging time for our family. My siblings and I were all in our twenties and we needed someone we could trust.

At the same time, I was embarking on my own accounting career. In order to become a success, people, much more successful have to take an interest in you. I am grateful for the personal business experiences and advice Ernie shared with me. I have worked for the some of the best firms in the business and I am presently running my own consulting practice.

I share in the sorrow of your loss of this very good man way too soon.

I am lighting a virtual prayer candle in the name of Ernest John Agresto at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Sincerely,

Lisa Romano

“ Our deepest condolences to the Agresto Family. As a professor who started a business with government contracts who knew nothing about accounting let alone government accounting, Ernie taught us everything we had to know over the past number of years. It was a long process, but Ernie got us eventually on our feet. He was always the knight in shining armor to come to our rescue.
We will miss him greatly.

“ I was fortunate to know Ernie primarily in a business capacity but it's hard not to call him a friend. It's just the kind of guy he was. I, like him, had my start with DCAA so we had that in common and we worked together on some projects in South Jersey more than 20 years ago. It was a great coincidence and stroke of luck that brought us together again in the past month on an assignment up here in Massachusetts when he was recommended to my new employer as a government accounting expert by an Attorney we employed. We renewed old acquaintance and exchanged war stories. I was greatly looking forward to working with him again. I can't imagine the hole he's left behind. I miss him and I only knew a fraction of the man. You, his family have my most sincere condolences. After the pain eventually fades, you'll be left with the memory and legacy of a truly wonderful, joyous, full of life person. That's a gift he's given you that will last forever.

Respectfully,

Hugh Christian

“ We have many fond memories of Ernie as a coach of his son Andrew's baseball and basketball teams. It was always obvious that his family meant the world to him. He was a great man and he will be missed.

“ Ernie was a great man, friend and mentor to me for over 25 years. He loved his family more than anything. He loved sports and his work. I will forever miss him and our conversations.

My thoughts and prayers go out to the Agresto family.

“ I met Ernie for the first time back in 2007, he was meeting with my attorney Dorn McGrath in the Arlington office of Greenberg Traurig. I was a bit nervous, and I recall Ernie saying to me "your doing a great job". He made me confident and I will never forget that. Thanks Ernie.
