“ I just found out (April 5) that Bill had passed away. As the other guitar player in The Belmont Five, I certainly remember him singing "Baby, I Don't Care" on the stage at Teen Haven, and being more that a little envious of the reaction he got from the girls. I also have to credit Bill with my first driving experience on his '50 Ford. I still like those cars!

“ Bill Hare , What can i say. I have been lucky to have know Bill for 45 plus years...We worked together, enjoyed time off together .Our friendship has always been something i"ve counted on ,his sage advice, good or bad ,was appreciated. After moving into Bills neighborhood we saw each other more often. meeting on a weekly basis. some times discussing current events ,problem clients, or just planning the next motorcycle route.

One favorite ride we called the mothers day ride [2003] . Bill knew every godforsaken back road to the horse farms near Princeton and back , of course.. no highways just country roads .We would be back before 10 am ,so Bill and Carol could spend the day together. .what love!!! You will be missed Bill..... But your wife Carol will be happy to have you by her side! Godspeed Bill ! condolences to the Hare family Todd Alexander

“ My deepest condolences to all his family . Bill was my closest friend and confidant, we worked together from 1986 till he retired and I worked out of his building until 2020.He and Carol mentored my wife Nancy and I thru family and business matters for years .I fondly remember us laughing at Friday night dinners , Carol telling Bill to knock off some slightly inappropriate behavior or comment as I egged him on .For the last almost 20 years we spoke every day and after work we would solve the world's problems as he like to say .It was good medicine after a hard day's work.Those times talking I will surely miss the most .Bill was talented as many can attest,from his trade, to the cars and the ability to fix anything with a motor.Bill would help or do a favor before you could ask ,but he could not be in your debt no matter how small .I never took that as a flaw he was proud self -made man and I respected him for that.Well known for being stubborn but if I let things go ,I actually had him say he was wrong once or twice ,honest it happened.Now remember I liked to poke the Bear once in a while ,so this one time during the Romney vs Obama election I said " I've voted in every presidential elections and I'm voting in this one and I'm not voting for that Nit Wit " .Of course I did ,not much of a choice as it was,but Bill lost it threaten to disown me and throw me out , joke out of control! We made up next day no harm no foul as far as I was concerned. Recently he apologized ,saying how bad he felt and how glad he was i didn't walk out on him and for being his friend.That was Bill to me and I will always miss him.
