“ I was a teenager over for a visit, not much more than a stranger sitting in their kitchen. I can't remember what prompted Mr. Wurst to glide across the room and take Mrs. Wurst in his arms in a dance move for a turn or two across the floor. They came together as gracefully as birds on a breeze. That was a life lesson on marriage and one that is as vivid fifty years later as it was back then.

“ Dear Wurst family:

I wish to convey my sincerest condolences to your entire family. Losing a loved one in death is one of the hardest things that anyone will ever have to deal with. There is a great hope held out to us for the future because God promises to bring those we lost back to life by means of a resurrection to a paradise earth, where sickness and death will be no more. I hope this brief message will bring you a measure of comfort in this difficult time.
