“ I always enjoyed Carole's company and conversations. She often shared memories of her time as a nurse and as a young mother of three. It was evident that she was proud of her children and grandchildren. She always made me laugh with her particular viewpoints and quick witted humor. We shared many stories as she volunteered her time to sell candy grams at one of our local schools. She enjoyed needlepoint and I will cherish the many Christmas ornaments she made for me. She was loving, compassionate and kind hearted. I am very grateful to have known her.
