“ *Deeply saddened by Mr. Maltbie's passing, but happy for him that he lived to be 95. Both he and Mrs. Maltbie were wonderful next door neighbors in Delran for 20 years. Beautiful Christmas parties. We miss rides around the block in his WWII Jeep and spending time at his home showing us his many treasures. Mr. and Mrs. Maltbie were both quite funny together, especially Mr. Maltbie and his dry wit. Mrs. Maltbie was thoughtful and caring of my four children, particularly my special needs daughter. Mr. Maltbie was a humble man given his time in the Navy, his career and the skill/workmanship displayed in his Delran and Chesapeake homes. True gentleman, great American.

My best friend, Charles Maltbie Sr. passed away at age 95. He was an inspiration to us all. He built his own boat, he taught himself to fly, he built his own house, on an island, and then built a train to run around the island. He started his own company and built it into a world class giant in the museum industry. His projects included such well known exhibits as the Holocaust Museum in Wash. DC and the Constitution Center in Philadelphia, PA. He will be greatly missed by his family and all of his many friends. I will really miss him.

Chuck and Charlie, so sorry to hear the passing of your father and grandfather, respectively, I always admired him for always attending most of the ERYC events. I had great respect for his loyal support and looked forward to talking with him, albeit, just to say hello and how he was doing. Your family is in my prayers.
