

John S Bourne

April 3, 2012

. John Setliffe Bourne, 78, of Moorestown, New Jersey, died peacefully at home on Tuesday, April 3, 2012, after a long struggle with cancer. He was a consultant in management training and documentation for many corporations during his forty year career, including Insurance Company of North America, Philco Ford Corporation, RCA Business Systems, and NASA. He was also a photographer, painter, sculptor, humorist, and poet. In his native California he showed his work in various Los Angeles galleries. Since moving east in 1973 he was published in various fine arts journals, and read his often hilarious poems widely in the Philadelphia area. He loved sailing on the Delaware River and Barnegat Bay, and delighted in classic cars.

Surviving are his wife of 38 years, Adele MacVeagh Clurman Bourne; his beloved step-daughter Margaretta S. Clurman and her husband Mark Patrick of Providence, RI, and his beloved step-son Andrew W. Clurman and his wife Claire H. Clurman of Boulder CO. He is also survived by grandchildren Skyler F. Patrick, Alexander C. Patrick, Lena S. Patrick, Katherine M. Clurman, Emmalyn S. Clurman, and Nathaniel H. Clurman. He was pre-deceased by his step-daughter Diana Katherine Clurman.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, April 21, 2012, at 11:00 am at the Moorestown Meeting House, 118 E. Main St., Moorestown, NJ, 08057. Donations in lieu of flowers may be made to the Kimmel Cancer Center at Jefferson University Hospital, 233 South 10th Street, BLSB Room 1050, Philadelphia, PA, 19107, or Moorestown-Mt Laurel Monthly Meeting, Society Of Friends, 118 E. Main St., Moorestown, NJ, 08057.
