“ Where do I start? I met Lynda 51 years ago when we were going to PSOT in Philadelphia to become secretaries. I remember thinking how she would always get hired way before me because she wore beautiful dresses and white gloves!! Little did I know the true impact our friendship would have on the rest of my life. Through ups and downs, we never left each other's side, and I am forever grateful for that gift. Though we are not biologically connected, she still remains 'the sister I never had'. Love you forever!!
