“ Mary loved music. She had many musical stuffed animals and other musical decorations around the house to play when children would stop by to visit. Her favorite was the flower that played boogie wooper bugle boy. As soon as she would play it for Marino as a toddler, he would break out in a dance for her. They would do it for hours. The joy it gave the two of them was priceless. I will also have those moments in my heart ❤️

“ We lived next to Mary for many years. She and Antonietta (sp?) would make meatballs and gravy and bring them over when my children were little. She finally relented and gave me the recipe. After making them, I told her they didn't taste anywhere near as good as when she made them. She said, "I confess. I left out the secret ingredient." She told me what it was and, both, my son and I continue to use her recipe. My daughter has my son make them whenever she has company or needs to take a main dish someplace. BEST meatballs EVER. Even though we moved, Mary was in our thoughts very often. Our deepest condolences to her niece and all the family.
