Robert (Bob) Edgar Bleiler passed away on July 15, 2022 at the age of 93. He was born November 28, 1928, in Allentown, PA to the late Edgar and Marguerite Bleiler. Robert married Sara (Sally) Drum August 23, 1952.

“ Dad

I missed you and I know you are putting on a good clown show in heaven making all the kids laugh. Thank you for being my father and giving me the right morals to live my life by. I know you enjoyed being Buckets and making the kids smile. I will join you in heaven one day.

*Your son;
Scott Bleiler*

“ I met Bob and his wife Sally when they came down to visit their son, Scott. Scott was there to help my mother with her job as a paper route carrier after my dad passed. Now I see where Scott got the "Caring" gift from seeing his dad and mom love people.

All these pictures show how much you were loved and cherished. All those kids who left this earth early are now with you, you who helped them get through this side of life easier with your sense of humor and clowning to bring a special smile to their heart. It takes special people to be the clown for the day of every little heart of a kid and grown ups as well for them to look past their own health into the loving hands of a clown. That gift came from The Lord above. Such love and giving from the heart of a man who loves the children.

Thank you to all of you who shared pictures of Bob. It was wonderful to see the pictures of everyone who knew him and that he loved.

We enjoyed all the visits when he came down to Jacksonville, Florida to visit. He always made us smile and laugh! He even brought me a red nose!

You will be highly missed and until we see each other again... (Caregiver of Scott)

“ Bob & Sally were our next door Neighbors in Moorestown. Growing up Bob was a good friend and a very giving person. He loved landscaping and that beautiful Blue Buick I think it was a 1956. Last time I spoke with Bob he was 87 and still pushing a wheelbarrow. Great Guy, will be missed by many.

“ Bob (Pockets) (Doc Bucket) and I Jim (CORONY) Fallon, met in the early 90's at a Class for Clowning at the local Community College. We hit it off early in the class and attended many Clown Conventions, Parades and Seminars over the years.

Bob was a very easy person to be around weather going out to dinner, working on make-up, balloon sculptures, skits, or any number of things involved with clowning.

He was a great guy to be around with, and just talk to. His infectious laugh and ear to ear smile were always welcoming. He was also a good listener; we discussed many topics. You'll be truly missed friend.

Love Ya, POCKETS

RIP CORORY

“ Bob was a good friend, always happy and always had funny comments to say about any subject that he was part of. He loved to play pinochile with our social club, and was very good at it. Bob will always be remembered to me as a kind and benevolent "clown", even when he wasn't working as one. Miss you Bob!
