“ I am so sorry that this is so late...I was a good friend of Scott's from The College of Wooster and visited his lovely parents in Moorestown once. We lost touch a few years after graduation. I was searching the internet to see what he was up to when I saw this shocking news. He was such a generous and thoughtful gentleman. I am so sorry for your loss. I will never forget him and his friendship.

“ I was absolutely shocked to read of Scott's death today on the internet. We last saw each other in the mid 90's, but we had a close relationship for a time in the early 80's when we both worked at Deloitte Haskins and Sells. In fact, on June 19, 1982, he was a groomsman at my wedding. My sincere condolences to his family.

“ Scott was a great man! I am shocked and so saddened by his death. Given all the help he had given through the years to both clients, family and friends a little help given back to him would have been my wish!

“ How sorry I was to learn of Scott's passing. My late husband and I knew Scott as a lawyer and as a friend. One memory comes to mind of a time our families went to an amusement park. The outing was for our young children but also for Scott since he loved roller coasters!! I hadn't seen Scott in many years but will always remember him as a wonderful lawyer and friend. Scott -- God bless -- you will be missed.

“ I am sad to read of Scott's passing. He was for many years my parents' trusted "go-to" advisor. When my husband and I first married, we asked my folks who we should talk to about planning for our future - need for wills, trust for child, and so forth. Their answer was "Just call Scott." Scott kindly sat down with us and answered our questions. He had a fundamental decency and integrity, and he will be missed. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his family. -- Barbara Johnson

“ Scott was my late husband's business lawyer for Colornet Inc, a printing firm previously located in Moorestown. When Rich died in 2007, Scott was a great help and support to me with his kind words and caring advice. Please accept my deepest sympathy in your time of grief.

“ Scott was our attorney and he introduced us to Moorestown when we moved here in 1990. He was warm and kind in all the dealings we had with him. Scott gave the title "counselor" meaning. Our prayers go out to his family.
